DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 2, 4-6, 8, 9, and 11-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Gibson et al., hereinafter Gibson (US Patent 6,274,896), previously cited.

Regarding claims 1, 4-6, 8, and 11-13, Gibson discloses in figure 2, a field effect transistor (FET) device comprising an upper surface of the channel region, (below gate 16) which is corrugated; and a pair of source/drain regions 18 and 20 (see figure 3).

Regarding claims 2 and 9, the (FET) device is selected from the group consisting of metal oxide semiconductor field effect transistor (MOSFET) devices and metal semiconductor field effect transistor (MESFET) devices (see column 3, line 33).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 3, 7, 10, and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gibson.

Gibson substantially discloses the claimed invention, as discussed above, except for the longitude peak and the depth of the curved channel region.

Note that the specification contains no disclosure of either the critical nature of the claimed dimensions of any unexpected results arising therefrom. Where patentability is aid to be based upon particular chosen dimensions or upon another variable recited in a claim, the Applicant must show that the chosen dimensions are critical. In re Woodruff, 919 F.2d 1575, 1578, 16 USPQ2d 1934, 1936 (Fed. Cir. 1990).

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed 6/30/04 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that “while the Examiner asserts that Gibson at Fig. 2 teaches a field effect transistor device with a surface of a channel region beneath gate electrode 16 as corrugated, applicant does not believe that such a feature of Gibson's invention is discernable from Fig. 2”. However, the channel in the reference is, in fact, corrugated (see column 4, lines 10-12). Moreover, the top surface of the gate is corrugated, also (see figure 2).

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO

Art Unit: 2814

MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
